Dear Admiral Addams:

I want to express my sincere appreciation for [redacted] [redacted] help with our continuing and developing training programs. He makes a major contribution to our program for training new military analysts and we are now looking to him for advice as we prepare a course on insurgency and counterinsurgency.

In sessions with our Military Analysis Course, he invariably is one of the most popular and effective speakers, combining an uncommon depth of knowledge with personal dynamism on the platform. We value him for his skill in the classroom and his willingness to share his understanding with our staff. We find his "framework for analysis" of insurgency to be particularly valuable in dealing with that complex subject.

Thank you for making him available. We know his time is limited.

Sincerely,

STAT
